

"What do you really want for your children? What qualities do you hope they develop and take into their adult lives?"

Hopefully you have on that list happy, independent, successful, fulfilling relationships and a life full of meaning and purpose. How much time do you spend developing these qualities in your children? Join us to learn some simple strategies, using the "whole-brain approach" to help your children thrive.

Marie Walker will lead us in a discussion about techniques described in the book 'The Whole-Brain Child' by Daniel J. Siegel and Tina Payne Bryson. We hope you can join us. Snacks and child care provided. Open to the public, please invite your friends, family, child care providers, teachers etc..

Please contact Dacia White, Parents As Teachers, for more information at 620-719-0835.
